THE FIRM

Dillon Eustace was established in 1992 and is one of Ireland's leading law firms focusing on financial services, banking and capital markets, corporate and M&A, litigation and dispute resolution, real estate, and taxation. Headquartered in Dublin the firm's international practice has seen it establish offices in Tokyo, New York and the Cayman Islands. In tandem with international development the firm has expanded significantly, particularly in recent years, in the domestic Irish market.

Areas of practice: The firm advises across a wide range of practice areas and disciplines. It is a market leader in a number of its key chosen fields including financial services, banking and capital markets, financial and insurance litigation and regulated and international mergers and acquisitions. In recent years the firm has been involved in many of the most significant transactions forming part of Ireland's deleveraging and distressed asset disposal processes. It has acted for buyers of in excess of €20bn worth of distressed Irish assets and in some of the most high-profile commercial transactions including the sale by the State of shares in Bank of Ireland and a number of high profile corporate inversion transactions.

INVESTMENT FUNDS

TIER 1

Dillon Eustace has an immense market share, thanks to its history, reputation and huge team, which includes several specialist partners. It represents a wide range of asset managers, acting for over 1,200 Irish domiciled funds, notably in the structuring and registration of UCITS and QIAIF funds. The firm's excellence is showcased in headline engagements such as the establishment of special opportunities funds and the world's first metaverse ETF. Donnacha O'Connor leads the asset management and investment funds department, and is managing partner of the firm; he has made a further impression in establishing loan origination funds and special opportunities funds. Brian Kelliher has an outstanding reputation for regulatory and compliance matters, while Brian Dillon is noted for his work with Asia-based clients. Brian Higgins, Cillian Bredin and Etain de Valera are also highly rated. Shane Coveney is an emerging talent. Former department head Andrew Bates retired in January 2023.

BANKING AND FINANCE

“Dillon Eustace has a wide-ranging practice, driven to a large extent by domestic banks and non-bank lending institutions. It has achieved further prominence in distressed debt portfolio transactions and real estate finance, where it also frequently acts for investors and other borrowers. Conor Keaveny, Keith Robinson, Mark Thorne and John-Hugh Colleran are versatile and experienced practitioners, with Conor Kiernan emerging as a senior name having become a partner in 2021.”

CAPITAL MARKETS

TIER 2

“Dillon Eustace’s team largely straddles both capital markets and banking and finance. Much of the capital markets practice has recently centred on non-performing loan (NPL) transactions, though the wider workflow includes securitisation, structured finance and offerings by corporate and high yield issuers. With its strength in the asset management area, the firm represents a large number of fund managers in capital markets transactions. Mark Thorne is an experienced figure in securitisation, structured finance and other DCM deals. Conor Keaveny, Keith Robinson and John-Hugh Colleran are also key partners. Conor Kiernan was promoted to partner in 2021.

DISPUTE RESOLUTION

TIER 2

“Dillon Eustace is at the forefront of funds, banking and financial services litigation. It deals with an especially high volume of insurance cases. The firm is also active in commercial litigation, fraud and asset recovery cases, shareholder disputes and real estate litigation. John Doyle leads the department, which includes Peter Bredin, defamation and media expert David Kavanagh and John O’Riordan.”

INSOLVENCY AND CORPORATE RESTRUCTURING

TIER 2

Dillon Eustace has a well-established restructuring and insolvency practice, particularly in corporate restructurings and examinations, where it advises a host of key stakeholders. The firm is also frequently engaged by insolvency practitioners seeking representation in liquidations, and benefits from a dedicated fraud and asset tracing group within the wider team and has an extensive record in personal insolvencies. Jamie Ensor is a leading practitioner in the field, while senior associate Shane Harron is noted for receiver litigation. Partner Peter Bredin is a litigator with a background in corporate recovery.

INSURANCE

“Dillon Eustace has a rounded insurance practice that features one of the largest defence insurance teams in the market, covering policy cover issues, product liability, business interruption, professional indemnity, personal injury and D&O insurance. The firm is also rated for its regulatory expertise, including the set up of Irish operations and general compliance. The insurance team features a number of extremely experienced professionals, including department head John Doyle and consultant Andrew Bates, who is noted for his regulatory expertise. Paul Breen is a key figure for motor insurance, employer liability, public liability, and product liability claims. Lorna Kennedy specialises in personal injury and product liability.”

MEDIA AND ENTERTAINMENT

TIER 2

Dillon Eustace has built a strong reputation for its work in the field of defamation litigation, where it handles many high-profile defamation cases for both domestic and international clients. John Doyle heads the practice and has a strong track record of providing pre-publication and day-to-day advice to leading newspapers and successfully defending clients before the High Court. David Kavanagh, Peter Bredin, and John O’Riordan are also recommended.

REAL ESTATE

“Dillon Eustace advises on the full spectrum of real estate law matters, with particular expertise in the negotiation of property joint ventures and development deals. The team works closely with the firm’s financial services and banking teams to provide holistic advice on property investments and is headed by Martin Colman who regularly advises on the acquisition, development, sale and leasing of commercial and residential properties. Kelly O’Hara has extensive experience of advising on all aspects of private rented sector deals, while Fiona O’Neill acts as construction advisor on a broad range of commercial and residential property projects for investors, developers and borrowers. Senior associate Brendan Cunnane and associate Clare Lacey are also recommended.”

COMMERCIAL, CORPORATE AND M&A

“Dillon Eustace is known for mid-market M&A and private equity deals, particularly in the financial services industry and other regulated sectors, advising both domestic and international clients. It is also noted for tax-driven deals, real estate and property-backed transactions, and healthcare deals. It also has a growing number of private equity clients. Former department head Lorcan Tiernan became a consultant in December 2021, with Adrian Benson becoming the new practice leader. Philip Lea is another key partner.”

FINTECH TIER 3

“Dillon Eustace’s financial regulation team regularly assists clients with authorisation applications and regulatory issues related to capital requirements, anti-money laundering and consumer protection. The team works with clients active in a broad range of areas including payments and e-money services, cryptocurrency, and insurance. Keith Waine heads the practice and has extensive experience providing regulatory advice to domestic and international clients.”

His practice covers investment grade and leveraged finance transactions, including syndicated, club and bilateral facilities. Keith's off-market and on-market structured finance work includes advising on and helping to implement tax-efficient financing and investment structures. He has also acted on numerous transactions involving QIAIF structures.

In recent years, Keith has acted for many of the most active participants in the Irish loan sale market and with numerous loan servicers that are managing loan books on behalf of loan book buyers. This work involves advising on restructurings, workouts and pre-enforcement strategies.

Keith was a member of the National Treasury Management Agency banking unit where he advised the Irish government on the recapitalisation of the Irish covered banks (including burden sharing with subordinated debt holders) and the restructuring of the Irish banking sector generally.

Keith's has worked in the United Arab Emirates. His experience there included advising on the recapitalisation of the local United Arab Emirates conventional and Islamic banks, oil and gas project finance transactions, and conventional and Islamic finance transactions.
